CARS STALLED ON CABLE ROADS.

PRAYEL DELAYED DURING THE BUSY HOURS IN BROADWAY AND THERD AVE.

Travel on both the Broadway and the Third-ave-cable roads was blocked for two or three nours las-evening just at the time when the rush of traffic is heaviest. The blockade on the Broadway road occurred at about 5:15 o'clock, and was caused by reparting of the cable at Houston-st., immediately from of the power house of the downtown re-on of the road. The breaking of the cable resulted in front of the power house of the downlown settler of the road. The breaking of the cabe resulted from the heavy pressure put upon it where the ears which were stalled along the track because of the parade and review at Union Square took up the cable when the line had been cleared. It was fully an hour before the relay cabe was in running order, and in the meanwhile cars had accumulated on the downlown track until the line of waiting cars extended to Thirty-fourthest. At Houston-st, early other car as it arrived from uptown was switched back. It was 7.50 o'clock before the cars were running regularly.

The block on the Third-ave cable road was also ecused by the breaking of the cable. The break occurred at Houston-st, at about a quarter before and Park Row as far north as Eighth-st. I fourth the cable in running order. In the mean time downlown cars were switched back as they arrived at Eighth-st. HIS REIRS-HIS NIECES AND NEPHEWS ALSO TO BENEFIT. Justice Prvor in the Supreme Court vesterday confirmed the report of Austen G. Fox, refere-construing a trust deed made on November 1, 1867 by John Jacob Astor in favor of his grandson, Walter Langdon. Judgment was entered on the confirmation of the report. The deed executed by Mr. Astor was for $150,000, and was for the benefit of his grandson for life. The deed was excuted in view of Langdon's marriage.

benefit of his grandson for life. The deed was excuted in view of Langdon's marriage.

It was stated by Mr. Astor in the deed that he desired to make a life provision for his grandson, and empowered the latter to dispose of the trust fund to his children. In case, however, his wife survived him, she was to receive one third of the fund. Mr. Langdon died in 1834 without issue. His wife had died several years before.

The fund, which by this time amounts to $172,000, was claimed by the executors of Mr. Astor, who said that it reverted to the Astor estate. Langdon's executors, on the other hand, asserted that by his will the money should be paid to his nephews and nieces, who were beneficiaries under Mr. Langdon's will. Langdon's heirs also claimed the fund, alleging that as he had left no children he was not entitled to dispose of it.

The confirmation of the referee's report awards the fund to Langdon's heirs. They are Eliza L. Wilkes, his sister, and Cecilia Notthack and Sarah A. Borell, who also survived him. Several of Langdon's nephews and nieces will also be benefited by the decision.

In the ladies' singles, which will begin to-morrow Atkinson, of Brooklyn, the ex-champion of the United States, will compete, together with her sister. Miss Kathleen Atkinson. As the American party was late in arriving, only a few matches

Ware found himself drawn against Angel, whom he disposed of in rather easy style, following up the victory by taking a well-earned match against Amerison, one of the Toronto players. Paret was pitt diagrams S. S. Sharp, another Toronto representative, who went down before the New-Yorker's fast net game in straight sets. W. C. Grant was also successful over MacDonald, a head expert, who played with considerable skill in the back of the court, but proved no match for his opponent's elever colleying. The novices' singles were begun during the morning, and furnished some capital play. Tomorrow the doubles, ladies' singles and handleap singles will be started with a large entry its; in each event. FIRE DESTROYS POTATOES AND EGGS IN FOUR STALLS. Part of the Manhattan Market for produce, a two-story brick building, occupying almost an en-tire block, at Thirty-fourth-st, and Tenth-ave., and some of its contents were destroyed by fire early last evening. The total damage is estimated at The flames were discovered by Policeman Smith of the West Thirty-seventh-st. station, who saw smoke coming from one of the upper windows at 6 o'clock. He sent in an alarm, and when the firemen arrived the fire was thought to be so the firemen arrived the fire was thought to be so dangerous that two more alarms were sent in Flames shot out from six of the windows ten minutes after the fire was discovered, in stalls Nos. 10 and 11, occupied by Frank Corbett and W. H. Wright & Son. It took an hour to get the flames under control, and in that time the fire had communicated to Nos. 8 and 9, occupied by W. H. Stevens & Co. 1t got no further. The three firms losers by the fire had potatoes and eggs stored in their stalls. Corbett was the largest loser. The damage includes about $1,000 to the building.
